Economic Recovery and Reinvestment Act

Community Resource and Constituent Service Guide

Our state and nation are facing the worst economic crisis in generations. 4.4 million jobs have been lost since the start of the Recession, the financial crisis has depleted retirement and savings accounts, credit is frozen for businesses and consumers, and our neighborhoods have been hard hit by the foreclosure crisis.

The President approved the Economic Recovery and Reinvestment Act as part of a vital effort to jumpstart the economy, create jobs, help workers hurt by the economy, and make key investments to transform the economy. Michigan is estimated to receive $18 billion through Recovery package programs.

We have prepared the Community Resource Guide to assist local communities and community organizations evaluate their participation in Recovery programs. Through this document we will also track the impact of Recovery funds in Michigan. It is important that there be strict oversight, accountability and transparency as the Recovery package is implemented.

We have also prepared Constituent Service Fact Sheets to assist individuals with the programs that might assist them directly. For example, there is a new program to provide a COBRA Health care subsidy to unemployed workers.

Please do not hesitate to contact my office if we may be of assistance. James Jackson is serving as our Economic Recovery Coordinator and he may be reached at 586-498-7122 or 248-968-2025

There is still much work to be done. My top priority in the weeks ahead is to fight for re-structuring of our auto industry outside of the bankruptcy system. The automotive sector is the heart of our entire industrial sector and a major driver in our nation's economy. The Federal government must be a partner in the difficult restructuring underway so that all stakeholders, especially the banks and creditors, are participating and that we are making key investments in the advanced technologies so vital to the auto industry of tomorrow.

Economic Recovery and Reinvestment Act

Constituent Service Guide

Most of the funding provided through the Economy Recovery and Reinvestment Act flows through state and local governments. Indeed, most are pre-existing programs that are receiving additional resources to boost to our economy (ie, infrastructure spending) and to help individuals and families during the economic recession.

If you need assistance, please do not hesitate to contact my office at 586-498-7122 or 248-968-2025 and we will try to assist you or put you in touch with the correct state or local agency.

Below are fact sheets on the programs we are contacted about the most. This website will be updated to reflect additional information requests.

Unemployment Insurance

The Recovery Package made a major investment in unemployment insurance both for unemployed workers and to improve State administration of the program.

For Individuals

The recovery package continues through December 2009 the extended unemployment benefits program which will enable 161,870 additional jobless workers in Michigan to qualify for extended benefits.

The recovery package increases unemployment benefits by $25 a week and suspends the Federal income tax on the first $2,400 of unemployment benefits for 2009.

The recovery package provides Health Insurance for Unemployed Workers for the first time by providing a 60% subsidy for COBRA premiums for up to 9 months.

For the State of Michigan

The recovery package contains an estimated $14 million in administrative funding and $69 million in general funding for Michigan's Unemployment Insurance (UI) program. The new law also forgives the interest Michigan owes to the federal government on funds borrowed for Michigan's UI program, resulting in a savings of about $41 million for the state.

New Health Care Option for Unemployed

65% COBRA Premium Reduction

The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA) provides for the first time, premium reductions and additional election opportunities for health benefits under COBRA. This provision will help 7 million people maintain their health insurance by providing a vital bridge for families when workers have lost their jobs as a result of the recession.

Eligible individuals pay only 35 percent of their COBRA premiums and the remaining 65 percent is reimbursed to the coverage provider through a tax credit. The premium reduction applies to periods of health coverage beginning on or after February 17, 2009 and lasts up to nine months.

Eligibility

To be eligible for the premium reduction, individuals must meet all of the following requirements:

- Individual was involuntarily terminated between September 1, 2008 and December 31, 2009
- Individual is eligible for COBRA continuation coverage as a result of Federal or State law at any time during the period beginning September 1, 2008 and ending December 31, 2009
- Individual elects COBRA coverage when first offered or during the additional election period

How do I sign up?

To sign-up for the premium reduction, you must enroll in COBRA coverage and fill out the premium reduction enrollment forms provided by your health plan. After February 17, 2009, plans began sending out information regarding the premium reduction to individuals. If you have not yet received information from your health plan, you should immediately contact your plan.

Special Election Period

Individuals who did not elect COBRA when it was first offered or those who signed up, but dropped their coverage because they were unable to pay the premium or for any other reason, have a new election opportunity. Individuals have 60 days after they are notified of their eligibility by their plan to enroll or re-enroll. Please note, this special election period does not extend the period of COBRA coverage beyond the 18 month cover period and it does not apply to coverage sponsored by employers with less than 20 employees that is subject to State law.

Reimbursement

If an employer has not yet set up the mechanism for paying the 65% share, an employee may be asked to pay 100% of the premium up front. If this occurs, the employee will be reimbursed by the employer by cash payment or credit towards future premiums.

Resources

Please visit www.waysandmeans.house.gov/media/pdf/111/cobra.pdf or the Department of Labor's (DOL) website at www.dol.gov/cobra. Worker Training in Michigan

The Recovery Package provides Michigan more than a $200 million for training. You may learn more about Michigan's training programs at: <http://www.michigan.gov/dleg/>

Locally programs are coordinated through the Michigan Works offices.

Macomb at <http://www.michiganworks.org/page.cfm/80/>

Oakland at <http://www.michiganworks.org/page.cfm/98/>

The State of Michigan relies on a number of federal sources of funding for its worker training programs. Including: the Workforce Investment Act (WIA), Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA), and Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF).

The Recovery Act provides Michigan $183 million in Workforce Investment Act funds. Of the $183 million in state formula grants Michigan is expected to receive, $74 million will go to youth, $30.8 million to adults, and $78.4 million to dislocated workers. The chart below shows how this compares to Michigan's funding for the past two years.

Michigan WIA Funding* (in millions)

	FY2007	FY2008	Recovery
Youth	46.7	58	74
Adult	42.3	54	30.8
Dislocated	91	131	78.4
Total	180 million	243 million	183 million

These funds are in addition to existing '09 funding.*

Recovery Act dollars will be used to bolster funding for the No Worker Left Behind Program (NWLB), Michigan's largest worker training program, and the recently-proposed Michigan Energy Corps program. Federal funding is the backbone of NWLB and the additional dollars will significantly expand the number of enrollees.

No Worker Left Behind

NWLB was created in 2007 with the goal of training 100,000 dislocated workers over three years. It offers up to two years of free tuition for Michigan citizens that are either unemployed or received a termination/layoff notice or are employed and have family income under $40,000. Because the program's intent is to reemploy participants, the focus of the degree or training program must be in a high demand or emerging sector or in a business program. Upon completion of the program, Michigan Works! Agencies and community colleges work with participants to find employment. Included under NWLB is the Nursing Corps, whose focus is to prepare 500 nurse educators, who will then train 3,000 new nurses, over three years to help meet the growing shortage in both professions.

To date, almost 60,000 workers have enrolled in NWLB; however, funding constraints have limited NWLB from meeting demand and the program's waiting list currently has over 4,000 names. Moreover, demand for training continues to grow: December 2008 saw a 60% increase in workers entering training compared to the year prior. With the help of Recovery Act WIA and TAA dollars, DELEG estimates NWLB will be able to exceed the 100,000 goal.

Energy Corps

The Michigan Energy Corps, proposed by Governor Granholm in her 2009 State of the State address, capitalizes on her goal of turning Michigan into a renewable energy 'hub' by reorienting the state's existing automotive manufacturing capacity to the manufacturing, construction, and delivery of alternative energy technologies. DELEG has identified four key areas of training and reemployment efforts: weatherization, green construction, renewable energy delivery systems, and conservation of natural resources. Specifically, the Energy Corps plans to train at least 10,000 unemployed trade workers over the next two years to weatherize 100,000 homes and upgrade 1,000 schools and public buildings with energy efficiency and renewable energy technologies.

Tax Relief for Individuals

The Making Work Pay Tax Credit

The Making Work Pay tax credit is the tax reduction centerpiece of the The American Reinvestment and Recovery Act. The credit provides over 3.7 million working families in Michigan the tax relief they need right now.

IRS guidance asks that, by April 1, employers must have instituted the lower withholdings for their employees.

To learn about eligibility for this tax credit, go to:

http://www.house.gov/apps/list/press/mil2_levin/PR040109.shtml

Other Tax Relief Provisions for Individuals and Families

Improving Tax Credit for First-Time Homebuyers. Increases the first-time homebuyer's tax credit from $7,500 to $8,000 and removes the current repayment requirement (for homes purchased between 1/1/09 and 11/30/09). This credit is generally claimed on your 2009 return.

Tax Deduction for Vehicle Purchases. Provides a tax deduction for state and local sales taxes paid on the purchase of new cars, including light trucks and SUVs. This credit is claimed on your 2009 return.

Expanding Child Tax Credit. Cuts taxes for the families of nearly 16 million children through an expansion of the child tax credit. This credit is claimed on your 2009 return.

Expanding Earned Income Tax Credit. Expands the Earned Income Tax Credit by providing tax relief to families with three or more children and increasing marriage penalty relief. This credit is claimed on your 2009 return.

Creating A New, More Generous College Tax Credit. Helps more than 4 million additional students attend college with a new, $2,500 tax credit for families, which is partially refundable. This credit is claimed on your 2009 return.

Protecting from Alternative Minimum Tax. Protects 26 million middle-class families from being hit by the alternative minimum tax in 2009.

$250 Economic Recovery Payment for Seniors and Veterans. Provides a $250 payment to people who receive Social Security and Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits beginning in early May 2009 and continuing throughout the month.

$250 Economic Recovery Payments for Seniors and Veterans

Who is eligible?

Any adult age 18 or over (other than a student beneficiary) who was entitled to a retirement, survivors, or disability benefit from Social Security at any time during the period November 2008 through January 2009. Also, any person receiving Supplemental Security Income (SSI) cash payments (except those in medical facilities in which Medicaid is paying for most of the cost of their care), Railroad Retirement benefits, or compensation or pension benefits from the Veterans Administration during that period.

Will an individual who was entitled to two separate benefits, such as SSI and Social Security, or Social Security and VA benefits, get two checks for $250?

No. Such beneficiaries may only receive one payment of $250.

Will a person who is both working and receiving Social Security, VA or Railroad Retirement benefits be eligible for this payment?

Yes, but the amount of the payment will be deducted from the total amount of the “Make Work Pay” tax credit created by the new law. The amount of the tax credit will be figured when the individual files their 2009 tax return.

Will the payment be included in the regular monthly Social Security, VA or Railroad Retirement benefits, or will it come separately?

The special $250 payment will be paid separately from regular benefits, but will be paid in the same form the beneficiary receives monthly benefits. So, if the beneficiary normally receives a direct deposit of the monthly Social Security benefit, the special $250 payment will also be direct deposited to the beneficiary’s bank account.

When will the payments be issued?

It is expected that most payments administered by SSA will be disbursed in May 2009.

Will this payment be taxable?

This payment is not subject to federal income tax.

Will a person who has applied for disability benefits but whose claim is still pending (e.g., on appeal and waiting for a hearing) be able to get the $250 payment?

Yes, if the application is approved and adjudicated before December 31, 2010, and the benefits awarded retroactively cover at least one month during the period between November 2008 and January 2009.

Will the payment count as income which could reduce a person’s SSI benefits?

No, and eligibility for Food Stamps, Medicaid or other federally-funded means-tested benefits will also not be affected. Payments are also excluded as a resource for the month of receipt and the following 9 months.

Will a retired government employee receiving a pension from a job that was not covered by Social Security be eligible to receive the payment?

Many will be issued a payment from the Social Security Administration, if they are receiving Social Security benefits or if they have a spouse who receives Social Security benefits. All others will be able to claim a special one-time refundable tax credit of $250 on their 2009 tax returns (filed in 2010).

Will the cost of the Social Security payments be paid by the Social Security Trust Funds?

No. The cost of all the payments will be financed from the General Fund of the U.S. Treasury.

Weatherization Programs for Individual Homes

The Recovery and Reinvestment Act makes an unprecedented investment in weatherization to create new green jobs, improve energy efficiency and to lower energy costs for individuals and families.

The State of Michigan is receiving $250 million to accelerate energy efficiency measures in the homes of qualifying homeowners free of charge and to assist eligible families reduce their energy bills by making their homes more energy efficient.

Agency: Michigan Department of Environmental Quality

Purpose: To provide relief to communities by requiring a greater Federal share for local clean water projects and greater flexibility for States to reach communities that would otherwise not have the resources to repay a loan with interest.
